Dear Sir:

I am writing in reference to your station taking off "Santa Barbara". I know this is not much to you but it is not fair to the viewers. We are now watching Channel 4, Washington, D.C.. This means we do not watch the news or Closer Look. Your station slogan is, "A Friend You Can Count On" Forget it. Wrong slogan. We cannot count on Channel 2 (12) anymore.

I guess you will be taking off Another World and Days of Our Lives. If you do, you can sure be assured that your ratings, whatever you put on, will be down. I no longer watch any of your shows after Another World.

Respectfully,

ROSE CHLAN

Attn: Director of Programming

Dear Sir/Madam:

It is my fervent hope that you will reconsider the re-insertion into your program scheduling of the excellent soap opera Santa Barbara, which you recently dropped in favor of The Montel Williams Show. While I have no particular problem with Mr. Williams' show, I do think that adding Geraldo Rivera to your lineup was totally unnecessary. In my opinion, there are already too many talk shows broadcast during the day. Santa Barbara is the highest quality daytime drama I have ever watched, much better than either Days of Our Lives or Another World, which Channel 2 still carries. I hope that mine is but one of many objections that you have received on this issue, and I eagerly await the return of my favorite show.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Joan Lancaster

Dear Sir or Ms.:

I am a concerned person living in the Baltimore area. My reason for writing to your station is to make a plea for your station to program shows not containing violence. If we could just try this idea for 3 months we could see if there is a change in the thinking of our youths.

Personally, I attribute a lot of the violence in the world today to the television programming in that the violence is overwhelming and a lot of the youth of today have only these drug lords as their role models. Please consider this request. If it doesn't work, well, we tried.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter. You see, perhaps if the people work along with the stations, there is a chance that we can make a positive change.

Respectfully yours,

A Concerned Viewer

Dear Mr. Kleiner,

My husband and I have been devoted Channel 2 News viewers for several years. Each weekday we would wake up to Channel 2 News Today, would catch the news inserts at 7:25 and 8:25 am, turn on the noon hour broadcast if we happened to be at home during the day and would always watch the Channel 2 evening news broadcast upon arriving home from work.

We particularly appreciated the easy going style of the Channel 2 News Today crew (Horace, Ken and Jack). They were easy to listen to at that hour and gave the show a nice and understated character. I am using the past tense here because all of the things we adored about the show have changed drastically since the addition of Rudy Miller and the Morning Show concept.

We, of course, have seen her on the evening and weekend time slots and have no problem with her as a part of the news team. However, as a morning anchor, we find her aggravating and are seriously considering changing the dial for our morning news.

She seems to constantly dominate the conversation, interrupting the other members of the news team. It is more like the "Rudy Miller Show" than a morning news and human interest show. She's probably a very nice person but, in our opinion, she's "too much for television" in the morning.

In closing, we think the strength of the old Channel 2 News Today was the fact that it had its own style. Now, especially the 5:30 to 6:30am hour, it's like WGRX FM with visuals; mostly dribble and no real substance.

We wish the program well, but just wanted to voice our opinions to you because we feel like we've lost an enjoyable part of our day.

Sincerely,

Tom and Cheryl Atkins

Gentlemen:

I am mad as hell. Why did you take Santa Barbara off the air? I just wanted to let you know I'm furious. I used to watch it on channel 2 in Baltimore. All you have on now are talk shows who want to listen to other people's problems we have enough of our own. I used to be in a fantasy world when I watched Santa Barbara now I don't watch TV at all. Every body's a talk show host even Chuck Woolery well wise up and get us something we enjoy.

To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to go on record as resenting the replacement at 3:00 P.M. Monday thru Friday of Santa Barbara with the Montel Williams Show. I now watch all programs on another channel.

I watched the Montel Williams show when it was in the 11:00 A.M. slot and enjoyed it but will not watch it or any other Channel 2 shows from now on. I have been watching the Oprah Winfrey show and feel it will suffer as back to back talk shows are tiresome. There are only so many subjects one can cover and most talk shows tend to repeat each other sooner or later.

I have also switched channels for the news broadcasts and it is refreshing to listen to anchor people who report the news without injecting their personal opinions by their attitudes. With the exception of Mary Beth Marsden, the anchor people on Channel 2 do this, especially when interviewing people on their news programs.

Not that this letter will accomplish anything but as a viewer "I" do have that right and feel I must exercise it.

Very truly yours,

Mary Jean Berger

Dear Sirs:

I am writing because I am very upset at your decision to remove my favorite show, "Santa Barbara" from your lineup. You already have four other talk shows, I don't see why you had to take "Santa Barbara" off for another one. I know that it is a low rated show, but it does have many loyal fans here in Cecil County, including myself. I wish that you would please reconsider your decision and put "Santa Barbara" back on.

Thank you,
